

Press release

Appointment at Crédit Agricole Assurances Eric Morvan named Director of UAF Patrimoine

22 September 2008 — Eric Morvan is appointed Director of UAF Patrimoine, an entity dedicated to financial engineering in life insurance with independent asset management consultants. He replaces Jean-Jacques Branche.

Eric Morvan, 40, worked in the LCL network as an asset manager, then as site manager at Banque Privée from 1999 to 2003. In 2003, he joined Asset Management at Crédit Agricole Group as head of development of mutual funds at LCL's Banque Privée and then at the Crédit Agricole's Regional Banks.

Eric Morvan is a graduate of Institut des Techniques de Banque from Centre d'Etudes Supérieures de Banque. He also holds a Master of Science in management, with a major in international asset management, from CNAM.

About UAF Patrimoine

UAF Patrimoine is an entity of Predica, the health insurance company of Crédit Agricole Group. It provides a range of financial engineering products in life insurance, focusing on the customer base of independent asset management consultants and key accounts.

At end-2007, UAF Patrimoine reported €259 million in revenues and €1.1 billion in assets under management.

Press contacts

CREDIT AGRICOLE ASSURANCES

Brigitte Cachon - ☎ + 33 (0)1 57 72 31 25

Elise Bouteiller - ☎ + 33 (0)1 43 23 80 71